

“We strive for energy efficiency, high quality and standards in our housing developments; therefore we wanted a heating supplier that would help us deliver our goals. We chose Rointe digital integral systems as our perfect partner.”

Brand new installations

Efficient housing developments

in various locations across Wales

Continuous commitment to our partnerships.

This affordable housing development company dreamt of building ecological and sustainable homes. Designed with dedication and built to last, these properties lead the way in terms of quality and energy efficiency for the whole family.

They needed a professional partner to deliver efficiency goals, not only to help protect the environment but to also reduce energy consumption and help save home owners money.

THE SOLUTION

Before each development installation, Rointe worked with this partner to conduct thorough Technical Studies on each location, plan and home to ensure maximum energy efficiency and sustainability. For the last few projects, the Kyros radiator and towel rail system was installed as it gives excellent programming ability for families with different lifestyles, thanks to the four pre-installed programs designed to meet various needs.

THE RESULT

Together, Rointe have built a lasting relationship as the only supplier of advanced electric heating solutions to this company. We enjoy working together with our partners to install the most beneficial heating systems.

BUILDING LASTING RELATIONSHIPS

When Rointe conduct a heating installation for any project, we work closely with the owners to ensure the right product is fitted and they experience a high level of service. We build lasting relationships with many of our clients and value their partnership.
